With a core band of Steve Flack on guitar, Michael Smith (The Atlantics, Scandal) on bass guitar and Colin Burgess, (Masters Apprentices) on drums, Sydney-based guitarist extraordinaire, Flack is bringing together another stellar lineup of legendary guitarists of classic and contemporary blues. In a show sure to please not only the hard-core blues fans of Muddy Waters, Robert Johnson, Cream, Hendrix and more, but all lovers of exceptional, acoustic, electric and slide guitar playing. The lineup is:

Phil Emmanuel - This Fender Telecaster-toting guitarist is the older brother of the now US-based Tommy Emmanuel, with whom he recorded an album, Terra Firma, in 1995. Phil has released two solo albums, Kakadu Sunrise and In The Shadow Of The Beatles, and has played alongside everyone from Slim Dusty to Don Walker.

Dom Turner is the founding member, guitarist/vocalist and major songwriter with Australia's most enduring blues & roots band, Backsliders and is a member of The Angry Tradesmen. Dom specialises in bottle neck slide guitar, using resonator guitars as well as 6 & 12-string acoustics. Dennis Wilson formerly of Kahvas Jute, performs English-influenced progressive rock and underground psychedelic hard rock at its most inventive and powerful. Brad Carr (The Choirboys), who co-wrote most of the songs with Mark Gable including the hits Never Gonna Die and Run To Paradise.

Steve Flack's Guitar Heroes Vol. 2 was released earlier this year and includes Bill Chambers, Phil Emmanuel, Bob Daisley, Stuie French, Dennis Wilson, Rick Fenn, Michelle Rose, Jim Kelly, Jake Lardot and Tina Harrod with Angry Anderson and many more. This album follows on from the success of the first volume released in 2007, which featured some of Australia's finest guitarists in Ian Moss, Pete Wells, Ray Beadle and Adam Pringle, along with a variety of other well known musicians like bass players Denny Burgess and Chris Bailey, and drummer Mal Green.
